CLASSES

Ms. Kelsey introduced a new sport game to her Net Sports class called Spike Ball. The students created teams and had a mini scrimmage

Students got creative and used chalk to draw a four-square outline for Mix-it-up-sports 2. Ms. Jonay teaches them new moves to advance to the winning spot faster

Ms. Ting teaches her Paint and Sketch students a new painting technique called abstract painting. The students always ask her for constructive criticism to see where they can improve their skills.

In STEM class students are challenged to build a tower strong enough to hold a bottle of water.

Coach Curtis reviews basketball basics like dribbling, shooting, passing and guarding. The students practiced to prepare for the Hoop Dreams 3v3 tournament.

GUEST SPEAKER

Kea'au Middle School's Police Officer on campus, Office Sampaga, was asked to be a guest speaker and share about his career in law enforcement. The students had many questions for Office Sampaga about his field of work.

STAFF TRAINING

ASAS Hawaii Site Coordinator staff took part in their annual retreat, where they take the opportunity to learn more about best practices in after-school provision, child development and safety. Among the many training they took part in, one was offered by Ho'ōla Nā Pua, Education and Training Program Manager, Harmony Vuycankiat, providing our Site Coordinators with tools and information in the fight against child trafficking.
